Distribution of Food To Unemployed Miners Will Begin Tomorrow

Must Be Registered In Township Relief Offices

Unemployed miners in Saline and four other counties of southern Illinois this week begin receiving government-donated commodities.

Rev. Louis Durfee, head of the Harrisburg Township general assistance office in the basement of the court house, said that distribution of commodities for miners living in Harrisburg township will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow at 403 North Jackson street. A truck bearing the commodities is scheduled to arrive at that location at that hour.

In Saline county, each township supervisor is taking care of the distribution of commodities to the unemployed miners in his township.

Rev. Durfee said that in order to receive the commodities, a miner must be unemployed and must first be registered at the township relief office at the court house. He then must present the card to receive the commodities and the amount he receives depends on the size of his family.

The office of Vernon L. Nickell, superintendent of public instruction at Springfield, is supervising the distribution of these government surplus foods to the five southern Illinois counties, the others being Williamson, Hardin, Franklin and Perry.

Nickell said that details had been worked out so that approximately 15,000 recipients will be benefited. He pointed out that his office is responsible for delivery only.

"Details as they have been worked out should be of great help in relieving distress in these areas brought about through no fault of the recipients," he stated.

The shipment will contain butter, beans, cheese, dry milk and shortening, he added.

Ticket to Game Will Aid Harrisburg Industrial Drive

DEVELOPMENT: Would you like to buy a concrete block in the Harrisburg industrial development program?

It's very easy. A lot easier than you probably think.

All you have to do is shell out a fifty-cent piece for a ticket to a football game and the ticket will be easy to secure. You can get the tickets at the Athletic House right now or at Taylor Field the night of the game, which is at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday of this week. Mark that time down in your calendar right now. Go ahead.

The contest will be between the Harrisburg Bull Pups and John VanderPluym's team from McLeansboro. The Bull Pups are the local freshman-sophomore aggregation and if you haven't seen the little boys play you should do so. Wednesday night will afford a great opportunity.

VanderPluym is bringing to town a team that has won all its games except one—a 14-6 loss to Valer. He has in a lad named Gately a boy who will be heard from more and more during the next two years. He's just a sophomore now.

The Harrisburg Junior Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring this game, needs the funds sorely for its industrial development program. The group is in the hole right now and requires your help to pull out.

It was figured that the most painless way to raise funds would be this game, with everybody giving a mere 50 cents and getting something good in return. If a crowd of 1,000 or 1,200 paid customers comes out to Taylor Field that night, it will mean a lot to the economics of the city.

Have you seen all the trucks that pull in and out at the Ellis Trucking Co. terminal on Route 45? Have you driven out in Dorrisville and seen the big factory building that is going up out there? These two

It is pretty tough on a sailor coming home from Navy service to lose his wallet with its papers so important to him.

Plan New U. S. Highway to Shawnee Bridge

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—Chief State Highway Engineer Ralph R. Bartelsmeyer said today his office will recommend designation of a new U. S. highway across southern Illinois when the Shawnee bridge over the Ohio River is completed in about two years.

Bartelsmeyer said the recommendation will be made to the American Association of Highway Officials. Several routes across southern Illinois have been proposed, he said, and Kentucky also is seeking a U. S. route designation on its side of the bridge.

Bartelsmeyer conferred Monday with a delegation of four spokesmen who sought designation of a Shawneetown-St. Louis route, over existing state highways via Eldorado, Benton, Du Quoin, Pyatts and East St. Louis, as a federal route.

Those in the group were Mayors Renos Miller, Du Quoin, John D. Upchurch, Eldorado, and L. E. DeWitt, Christopher, and John D. Douglas of the Benton Chamber of Commerce.

Bartelsmeyer said other proposed routes from Shawneetown toward St. Louis are via Eldorado, McLeansboro and Mount Vernon, and via Harrisburg, Marion, Carbondale and Murphysboro.

Nixon Predicts GOP Victory; Republicans Desperate: Rayburn

WASHINGTON (UP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon returned to the campaign trail today and predicted a Republican victory in the Nov. 2 congressional election provided "we mobilize our strength."

He said voters are "becoming increasingly aware of the barrenness of and complete lack of genuine issues" in the Democratic campaign. Nixon said the campaign will be "won or lost" in the remaining two weeks before election day and said the GOP enters "the homestretch with an advantage."

House Democratic Leader Sam Rayburn of Texas countered with a prediction of victory for his party and a charge that the Republicans have waged "a ruthless and reckless campaign."

Rayburn said the Republicans have become so "desperate" they forced President Eisenhower to make a speech predicting a "cold war of partisan politics" unless the GOP retains control of Congress. U. ## Double Funerals Planned for 4 Auto Victims

Rites Wednesday for Mother, Son; Thursday
For Husband, Wife

Two double funeral services will be held for the four victims of a collision of two cars on Route 142 north of Eldorado Sunday afternoon.

A double funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the First Baptist church in Eldorado for Mrs. Emma Lou Patton and her three-year-old son, Dennis Ray, who were in the car driven by Mrs. Patton's husband, Robert.

The double service for George A. Gross and his wife, Noma, will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Omaha Baptist church in Gallatin county.

The Patton service will be conducted by the Rev. Clifford Potter, the Rev. A. D. Van Hoose and the Rev. Walter Noffke. Burial will be in Barnett cemetery south of Equality.

The Rev. Don Rister and the Rev. Ned Sutton will conduct the Gross service. Burial will be in Palestine No. 2 cemetery near Omaha.

Mr. and Mrs. Gross, only occupants of their car, resided on Eldorado Route 1. The Patton family made its home in Evansville, where he was in business, but both came from Eagle Creek community in Gallatin county. Mr. Patton's mother and sister now live in Eldorado and his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Colbert, reside on Herod Star route.

Reports today were that Mr. Patton, critically injured in the crash, was showing some improvement. His son, Ronald Lee, 12, continues to improve. Both are in Pearce hospital in Eldorado.

Coroner Elmer M. Gibbons today announced that the inquests into the four deaths will be held at 7 p. m. Wednesday at the Eldorado city hall.

Coroner Gibbons last night conducted inquests into two other deaths and they were held at the city hall in Eldorado.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict that Mrs. James Porter of near Dale in Hamilton county, who died Sunday, came to her death by drinking ammonia. Her husband and Dr. N. A. Thompson of Eldorado testified.

A jury returned a verdict that Claude Sanders of Eldorado, driver employed at Sahara 16, died of injuries received in a fall of coal Oct. 15.

Witnesses included three miners, Delmar Mills, John Woodruff and Kenneth Martin, who said the coal fell out of the rib in a freakish manner shortly after it had been examined.

Drowns in Freak Automobile Mishap

JOLIET, Ill. (UP)—A 21-year-old Texan was drowned Monday during a freak auto mishap 15 miles south of Joliet.

Lovelle's cousin, Darwin Ross-well, 25, of Wilmington, Ill., said he was sleeping in the back seat of the car at the time of the accident. Ross-well suffered only minor cuts and bruises.

Comet Jet Crashes Blamed On 'Metal Fatigue'

LONDON (UP)—Two Comet jet airliner crashes which killed 56 persons were blamed today on "metal fatigue" resulting from "tremendous pressures" built up in the planes' pressurized cabins in the thin air of the stratosphere.

Sir Lionel Heald told a special court of inquiry that extensive government tests showed that the plane's metal became fatigued and weakened by air pressure inside the cabin.

The result, he said, was a split-second explosion which blew passengers and crewmen through the sides of the big airliners and ripped the fuselage apart without warning and before any distress signal could be sent.

City Council Urged to Set Up Garbage System

Garbage collection was discussed this morning at the regular city council meeting with Dr. S. J. Lewis of Sullivan, state superintendent of garbage feeding in 36 southern Illinois counties, telling the group that the city should set up a system for its residents.

Dr. Lewis pointed out that the state of Illinois passed a garbage feeding law in 1953 which provides that all persons who feed garbage to swine, or to poultry or other animals on farms where swine are kept, must first receive a permit from the state department of agriculture. The permit costs $20 a year.

Then, before feeding, the law says, the garbage must be cooked.

The law also provides that trucks or other vehicles used in hauling shall be tight and covered to prevent the garbage from being scattered upon the highway.

Another provision of the law is that all swine to which garbage is fed shall be quarantined on the premises where the feeding operation is carried on or conducted, and may be moved from such premises, otherwise than for slaughter, only upon permit issued by the department.

City Needs Proper Disposal

The law carries penalties of fines and jail sentences for violation of the law's provisions.

Dr. Lewis, after explaining the law, said the city needs a setup in which all the garbage in town will be picked up and disposed of properly. At present, he said, there are three persons with permits picking up garbage but they are only getting a small amount.

He suggested that somebody be contracted with who will pick up every bit of the garbage and dispose of it properly. Best method of disposition, he said, is burying it, as it is hard to get rid of all of it by burning.

He said that the city of Olney has a model ordinance on garbage and the local council decided to write to the clerk at Olney for a copy of this ordinance for study.

The city council today gave final approval to a Civil Defense ordinance, which tells how Civil Defense shall be set up in the city. This ordinance provides for a levy for Civil Defense purposes only of a tax not to exceed five cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Is Opposed to French Plan to Dole Out Arms

Secretary to Meet
With French, British,
German Leaders

PARIS (UP)—French Premier Pierre Mendes-France and German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer indicated today they have reached agreement in principle on the future of the Saarland.

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles leaves for Paris today stubbornly opposed to a renewed French drive to create a West European agency to dole out American arms.

U. S. officials said Dulles will tell French Premier Pierre Mendes-France and others at the Paris conference that the United States is not prepared to give up its right to say who will get American aid and how much.

Dulles will meet in Paris Wednesday with German, French and British leaders on giving Germany its sovereignty. On Thursday, he will sit in on a meeting of the Brussels Pact nations and on Friday he will attend a meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The conferences follow up recommendations of the recent London conference where it was agreed to free Germany and re-arm her in the Western camp.

Officials said reports from the working group in Europe indicate that the plans are going smoothly and American hopes for the Paris conference are high.

The one sour note was sounded by Mendes-France. The French premier has warned the United States that he plans to renew his proposal for creating a continental arms pool and a West European agency to dole out American arms as it sees fit.

Dulles rejected the European agency idea at the London conference and representatives of other nations were not enthusiastic about it.

Foundation to Spend $9 Million On Polio Vaccine

NEW YORK (UP)—The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has decided to "gamble" nine million dollars in March of Dimes funds on the new Salk anti-polio vaccine.

Basil O'Connor, foundation president, said Monday final scientific tests of the vaccine will not be completed until next April 1, but the foundation is going ahead with purchases of large amounts of the vaccine on the assumption it will be proved effective.

The nine million dollars will be spent through the winter to buy enough vaccine to provide free vaccinations for nine million children and expectant mothers, starting immediately after April 1.

That is the target date set for the report on the effectiveness of last summer's experimental vaccinations of 440,000 school children.

The report will be made by a special scientific evaluation committee headed by Dr. Thomas Francis Jr., epidemiologist of the University of Michigan.

It will not be known definitely until then whether the new anti-polio discovery is an effective disease fighter, but the foundation is willing to "gamble" that it is, O'Connor said.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY
There is no fear in love, for perfect love casteth out fear. * * * And he that feareth is not made perfect in love. — 1 John 4:18.

The certain assurance of God's intimate love leaves no place for fear. When father and mother forsake us the Lord will take us up. The billions of cells of our bodies function through God's love and care. The hairs of our head are numbered, we are indeed God's very children. That leaves no place for fear, no bad thing can happen to a good man in this life or the life to come.

For Safer Driving

Editorial
BY LEONARD RUPPERT

In a small publication called
"Research Trends" safety authority Alvin C. Smith recently posed — and answered — a highly important question. If his answer should prove correct, it will have an effect on the life-spans of many thousands of persons.

The question is basically this:
Since all sorts of fragile merchandise can be safely packaged in shipping containers, why can't you and your family be "safely packaged" in automobiles?

Smith, for one, believes that you CAN. And he and a number of others are now working hard to prove it.

It seems to be rather clear, he says, that attempts to reduce our highway deaths by cutting down on the accident total have not been a great success.

Stricter laws, improvements in roads, safety campaigns and similar weapons surely have been of help.

But the death toll continues to climb.

Since we still haven't found a way to drastically cut the "frequency" of accidents, the approach we are turning to now is to try to cut the "effects" of accidents.

Or to use the language of Smith:
We must "safer package" the human body so that, when an accident does occur, the body is well protected.

This, he says, can be done two ways:

1. By changing the car's interior to lessen the number of hazards. (A person killed in an auto crash usually strikes his head on a lethal object inside the car.)
2. By the use of so-called "body restraints" such as seat belts and special crash bars, which prevent the head from hitting these hazards, or lessen the force of the blow.

Results of research so far have been rated "extremely encouraging." They seem to promise a day, says Smith, when deaths resulting from auto crashes will be classed as a rare occurrence.

Safety experts agree, however,
that unless the public supports such work the day may be slow in arriving. To give our bodies the needed protection, the manufacturers of cars will have to make major changes in their present basic designs. And when these changes will come, it is warned,
will depend on how soon we demand them.

If this is true, then let's start demanding. And a sensible way to begin is to urge the adoption of seat belts.

Seat belts are not uncomfortable. They would not require a change in present design of our autos. According to several studies, they could drastically cut the death toll. Yet we still haven't taken action to have them widely installed.

The reason given most often —
that there may be some public resistance—seems like a lame excuse. If every make of automobile made the belts standard equipment, they soon would become accepted. Or the state could require them by law, as they now do tail-lights and such.

Here is an excellent safety project for clubs and for individuals.
Buy such belts and install them yourselves. Write some letters to auto firms—write to public officials.

It's been said many times before,

Quits, Charges Mismanagement At Geneva School

GENEVA, Ill. — Ruth L.
Conklin has resigned as business manager of the Illinois State Training School for Girls with the charge that "gross mismanagement and confusion" had made her job "untenable."

In a bill of particulars "which accompanied her letter of resignation Monday, Mrs. Conklin said she hoped that the action would "sufficiently arouse taxpayers to demand a thorough investigation of the institution."

She also charged that an investigation of the school and the activities "of the superintendent, herself, Mary L. Shaughnessy, was ordered "squashed" by Gov. William G. Stratton.

Miss Shaughnessy said the first
she knew about the resignation was when Mrs. Conklin handed her the letter Monday.

To the charge that she and her assistant had been absent from the institution at the same time, Miss Shaughnessy said that "whenever this was necessary, a responsible person was put in charge."

Mrs. Conklin also charged that employees had hoarded inmates' food,
had been guilty of "dereliction of duty," and that minor offenders were integrated with criminal offenders and sex cases.

Mrs. Conklin, a widow, was hired by Miss Shaughnessy in June, 1953,
and was named business manager
after a short training period.

Eugene J. Czachurski, acting chairman of the Illinois Youth Commission, which is responsible for the school, said Mrs. Conklin's charges would be investigated.

He said the school was overcrowded and understaffed and that the buildings were old and neglected.

Cautions Chicago Newspapers Against "Whip Cracking"

As one watchdog to another,
and proud of it, the Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois warned the newspapers today against aiding and abetting the degeneration of our American system of checks and balances into government by a ringmaster with a bunch of trained poodles.

Pointing out that a Chicago
newspaper recently admonished
the Governor to "crack the whip"
over members of the General Assembly of his party to force them to support a proposed amendment to the Constitution, the Federation also points out that the same paper a few years ago condemned
"cracking the whip" to get votes
for legislation revising truck license fees.

Recalling that the national legislature was condemned by the press generally throughout the country not so many years ago as a "rubber stamp Congress," the Federation chided the newspapers for taking the position that members of the Illinois General Assembly should become rubber stamps
now.

George Mahin, Federation executive secretary, stated: "The job of the legislature is to legislate—to weigh bills introduced, and to pass or defeat them on their merits. The job of the Speaker of the House and the presiding officer in the Senate is to see that this is accomplished, as expeditiously as possible. The theory that legislators of the same party
as the chief executive should vote and speak as they are told by the chief executive, and that it is the job of their presiding officers to see that the legislators do that, is untenable. If that theory were actually carried out, we would be perilously close to dictatorship and to the end of our American system based on separation of powers of the executive, legislative and judicial branches. It is disheartening to find newspapers ad-monishing the Governor to 'crack
the whip' and exhorting staunch defenders of the American system of separation of powers simply because they don't act like a bunch of Charlie McCarthys."

C. H. Thompson Addresses GOP Meeting at Raleigh

One of a series of Republican meetings in Saline county was held Monday evening at Raleigh, where the county candidates met a good reception by a large attendance. The meeting was held at Raleigh school.

All of the county candidates were introduced and Atty. Charles H.
Thompson, Harrisburg, former Supreme Court justice, was the main speaker.

Judge Thompson spoke of the promise made by President Eisenhower two years ago, that if he were elected he would restore honesty and efficiency to the government.

Judge Thompson said that he has accomplished that purpose, the truth of which is seen in the daily newspapers reporting the discharge from government jobs of those who had betrayed the trust placed in them.

"President Eisenhower promised to see to it that the infiltration of communists in various branches of the government would be stopped. That he made good on this promise is shown by the release of news by the Civil Service Commission a few days ago disclosing discharge of 6326 federal employes
for failure to take the loyalty oath," Thompson said.

Conviction of Col. Fleming Opens Door to More Trials

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

BY DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The conviction and dishonorable discharge sentence of Lt. Col. Harry Fleming for collaborating with the Communists while a prisoner of war in Korea is going to launch at least a dozen more trials in this category.

One is expected to involve a graduate of West Point.

Fleming's conviction has raised to the boiling point a feud inside
the Pentagon which has been raging on the whole question of the handling of these POW cases.

Out of the 3600 men who were prisoners of war in Korea, investigations were made against 215 of them for various, suspected illegal activities. Out of this number 78 were considered serious enough to be presented to the Dept. of Army Board on POW Collaboration, although the remaining cases are still alive and more information is being gathered on them.

From the list of 78 the Board and Dept. of Defense officials agreed that there was enough evidence to go to trial on 43, including Fleming, Col. Claude J. Batchelor and Cpl. Edward Dickenson who have also been convicted.

THE GENERAL OF THE COM-MAND in which a man is assigned
has the authority to order a man brought to trial. They have specially refused to act on six cases, which leaves 34 still pending. Because there has been so much public and official confusion on this matter the generals with this decision to make have delayed action, fearful of bad publicity.

The conviction of Fleming, which was not considered one of the strongest cases, is expected to spur action on at least 12 other cases where there is evidence that G. I.'s either died or were maltreated because of the conduct of the suspected POW's. All of the 34 might be brought to trial. And none of the original 215 can consider himself
free yet.

The dispute within the Pentagon
over the handling of POW crimes involves complex issues and is bitter. The Army is irked with the Air Force for ignoring the whole question of POW's. The Air Force opinion is that each airman is worth such an investment in training and experience that his main mission is to get out of a POW camp alive so that he can fly again.

THIS POINT IS CONSIDERED A
vital factor in future frontline Army discipline, however. The Army feels that it just cannot let
a man get away with surrendering too soon or cooperating with the enemy after capture because it might encourage many more men
to do the same thing later.

Many officers in the Army also feel the Marine Corps just made a public relations gesture by its trial of Col. Frank H. Schwable, which ended up in effect keeping him from becoming a general. They feel the Marines are covering up on other cases.

Within the Army there is disagreement about having allowed most of the 215 men with bad records as POW's leave the Army with honorable discharges, and giving them all of their back pay and allowances. It throws the prosecution of them into the hands

Utah Candidate Is Replaced After 'Hoax'

SALT LAKE CITY — Rep.
Douglas R. Stringfellow, who admitted his story of being a war hero was a fake, was replaced today as Republican candidate for Congress by a 62-year old college president.

Dr. Henry Aldous Dixon, veteran
Utah educator and head of Utah
State Agricultural College, was selected as the GOP substitute nominee in Utah's First Congressional District, following a hectic three and one-half hour meeting of the state Central Committee Monday night.

In the Nov. 2 balloting, Dixon, a political novice, will face Walter K. Granger, Democratic nominee who represented the district for 12 years before unsuccessfully trying in 1952 for election to the Senate.

The selection was made some two hours after Stringfellow had appeared before the committee to apologize for admittedly imperiling
GOP chances in the election.

Stringfellow's resignation as the nominee was accepted unanimously
after state Chairman Oral J. Wilkinson read the 32-year old paraplegic's confession that his many-times told story of leading a heroic OSS mission behind German lines in World War II was a figment of his imagination.

Stringfellow, his eyes wet with tears as they were Saturday when he first confessed to the hoax, said acceptance of his resignation as the First District nominee was "the only thing that's right for the people, the party and the country."

OBSERVE GOLDEN WEDDING WITH OPEN HOUSE—Mr. and Mrs. Luther Bourland received about two hundred guests at an open house at their spacious country home on Erough Road, Eldorado, Sunday afternoon in observing their fiftieth wedding anniversary. The home was beautifully decorated with golden mums and yellow roses, sent by friends and in the dining room an attractive table was the center of attention. The table was laid with a golden cloth with a centerpiece of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums. At one end a beautifully decorated wedding cake was cut by the couple at the beginning of the afternoon's observance and was served with golden punch from a crystal punch bowl. Lighted yellow candles in brass candelabra spread a soft glow over the table.

Two sisters of Mr. Bourland, Mrs. Nelle Cox and Mrs. C. J. Skaggs, assisted by Mrs. Gerald Skaggs, were table hostesses and they were assisted by Mrs. Nina Gunter of Eldorado. Mrs. Ralph Bourland presided at the guest register. Mr. and Mrs. Bourland's only daughter, Miss Dorothy Bourland, and Miss Grace Karnes, sister of Mrs. Bourland, assisted in receiving the guests. A number of Harrisburg people were among the several out-of-town people calling during the afternoon.

Mrs. Melvin Hatch of Gordon, Neb., is visiting with her sister, Mrs. Merle Guard, in Dorris Heights. She will also visit with her father, J. W. Wallace, of Eldorado, and another sister, Mrs. Frank Petty of Cobden. She plans to stay in this area for two or three weeks.

Churchill Says He Still Would Like to Confer with Malenkov

LONDON 19 — Prime Minister Winston Churchill said today he still would like to confer with Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov "if the right time and occasion is found."

Churchill made his statement in the House of Commons shortly after it convened after a long summer recess.

Laborite members asked him about the possibilities of such a meeting.

"I have in no way rescinded my expression of willingness to meet Mr. Malenkov at some agreed place or rendezvous if the right time and occasion is found," Churchill replied.

Churchill has steadily insisted he would like a meeting with Malenkov when the time is ripe. The Prime Minister first proposed a meeting of the heads of state of all the great powers 1 1/2 years ago.

What constitutes the bulwark of our own liberty and independence? It is not our frowning battlements, our bristling sea coasts. Our reliance is in the love of liberty which God has planted in us. Our defense is in the spirit which prizes liberty as the heritage of all men in all lands, everywhere.

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF OF SALINE COUNTY

In order that those who do not know me might become better acquainted with my life history, I would like to present the following facts about myself:

I was born in Eldorado, Illinois, and am 39 years of age. I have lived all my life in Saline County, except for 2½ years in the armed forces during World War II. I attended the public schools in Eldorado, and graduated from the Eldorado Township High School with the class of 1933.

I am married, and have one daughter, 17 years of age.

After graduating from high school, I worked for Burnett's grocery in Eldorado, as a grocery clerk and delivery boy. During my youth I took part in over 200 boxing bouts, and was lightweight Golden Gloves boxing champion of southern Illinois for three years. I fought on many of the Labor Day celebration boxing contests held at the fairgrounds in Harrisburg. I worked in the coal mines as trip rider, and on top as rock picker.

I served 2½ years in the Navy during World War II, serving on board the battleship West Virginia, as a radar operator, and taking part in many of the historic battles in the Pacific. After service I received an honorable discharge, in good health, and returned home. There I joined both the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and am service officer for both organizations at the present time, in my home posts. I took an examination for real estate broker, and sold real estate for several years. In 1949 I accepted a job with the Illinois Veterans' Commission, with offices above Carps store, and worked as service officer for that organization for 3½ years. My job there consisted of helping veterans and the widows and children of deceased veterans to secure the rights and benefits due them through the veteran's service. I resigned in 1953, and bought a restaurant on Rt. 45 west of the intersection in Eldorado. I sold this business just over two months ago, in order that I might see as many of the people of Saline County as I could, in regard to my candidacy for Sheriff.

I was elected and served as police commissioner of the city of Eldorado. I was elected and served on the Saline County Board of Supervisors for four years. For two years I served on the liquor control commission of Saline County.

The people of Saline county, I am convinced after talking to many of them, want a sheriff who will enforce the law, who will use common sense and sound judgment in helping people solve their problems, and who will protect the lives and property of the residents of the county. These things I will do if I am elected sheriff of Saline County.

I want each of you to check my record and qualifications, and compare them with those of my opponent. Then vote for the one who, in your opinion, is best suited for the job of being sheriff of Saline County.

Respectfully submitted,

British Firms Airlift Food From Continent

Report Dockworkers Attempt to Spread Work Stoppage

LONDON — British firms today began airlifting food from the continent to this island nation whose sea lifelines have been cut by a strike of dock workers.

Officials of Blue Air Ltd., an air chartering group, dispatched huge Bristol freight planes to Amsterdam to pick up 160 tons of meat, butter, cheese and milk and fly them back to Britain.

The move was made amid disclosure that the leaders of the Red-backed, wildcat dockers' strike are attempting to spread the work stoppage to the nation's railways and other transport services if troops are called out to handle food and other perishables rotting aboard 203 idle ships.

Representatives of the leftwing leaders of the walkout have asked railwaymen, road transport workers, gasoline truckmen and fruit handlers for support if Prime Minister Winston Churchill orders out the troops.

The Communist chief of the Scottish mine workers, Abe Moffat, won from his men approval of a resolution in support of the dock strike.

The only bright spot in the labor picture was in London itself where thousands of bus drivers and conductors streamed back to work early today, ending a six-day transport tie-up.

But the dock strike had taken 35,000 men off their jobs — nearly half the nation's total. And the threat of further walkouts was a matter of serious concern to the government.

In Belfast, Northern Ireland, 1,100 dockers walked out for a meeting, but a spokesman said the stoppage involved a seniority dispute and was not connected with the wider strike.

God gave every man individuality of constitution and a chance for achieving individuality of character. He puts special instruments into every man's hands by which to make himself and achieve his mission.

—J. G. Holland

Giant Panty Raid by Tulane Students Grows Into 'Riot' with 700 Involved

NEW ORLEANS — Doves of Tulane university students stormed dormitories of a women's college Monday night in giant panty raids that police said grew into a "riot" involving 700 persons.

Four students were arrested. A dean tussled with several others. Six girls danced on a rooftop. Women students showered undergarments from windows. Some of the men threw rocks.

For four hours the hundreds of male students milled about the big campus squares connecting Tulane and Newcomb College for Women until police in squad cars quelled the demonstration at midnight.

When rocks showered on several police cars, authorities rushed a mobile anti-riot truck to the scene and threatened to unpack tear gas guns if the attacks continued. The rock-throwing ended.

One wave of students chanting, "A girl in every room," swept into a women's dormitory, the Warren House, invaded the second and third floors, and brought out armloads of lingerie.

Despite pleas by Dean of Students John H. Hibbs another wave of 200 students surged to the Warren House, found it locked, and started hoisting one another thru the windows.

This time Newcomb college officials were ready for them. Dean Jack Hubbard came out swinging and plucked several of the men from the windows in a brief melee while others scurried into the shadows.

...to bring you the new Super-Refined No-Nox Gasoline that gives more power-with-protection than you've ever known.

Gulf takes out the cupful of trouble. Ordinary gasoline (left) contains a "dirty-burning tail-end" that forms trouble-making deposits. Gulf takes out this carbon forming "dirty-burning tail-end"—more than a cupful (center) from every gallon—to bring you a super-refined gasoline (right) that offers more power-with-protection than you've ever known.

2 Lamp demonstration: Instead of trying to fight harmful deposits with so-called "miracle additives"—inside your engine—Gulf believes in preventing them from forming in the first place; removes the cause—the "dirty-burning tail-end"—at the refinery. Just look at the plates in the unretouched photo above and see what a difference Gulf super-refining makes!

What's more, besides giving your engine more complete protection, new Super-Refined Gulf NO-NOX gives you extra gas mileage in the short-trip, stop-and-go driving motorists do most . . . no knock, no pre-ignition . . . instant starts and fast, fuel-saving warm-up.

CIA is Doing Good Job: Doolittle

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle reported to President Eisenhower today that the Central Intelligence Agency is doing a "creditable job" and is "exercising care to insure the loyalty of its personnel."

Doolittle issued a statement through the White House after he and three other members of a study group had completed their review of the CIA and made their recommendations to the President.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the Doolittle group had made a single copy of their recommendations regarding the super secret CIA. This copy was turned over to the President.

Air Force, Navy Need Transport Fleets: Ridgway

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said today that the Air Force and Navy are inadequately prepared to rush Army troops and equipment to overseas theaters in event of war.

In an apparent plea for expanded military air transport fleets, the Army chief of staff said ground combat units are being withdrawn from "over-extended positions" and gathered at "more centrally located areas" from which they could be quickly deployed in a war.

Ridgway spoke out at the National Guard Assn. general conference. Earlier, Franklin L. Orth, deputy assistant secretary of defense, told the group that an airborne army must be ready to invade enemy territory immediately after Air Force atomic attacks so as to win any future war in a "few months."

Ridgway said pointedly that rapid long distance movement of ground forces is a responsibility of the Air Force and Navy. He said such movement would largely determine how fast ground units could exploit strategic air attacks upon an enemy.

He appeared to be firing an opening gun in a looming inter-service controversy. When the Eisenhower administration revised the Air Force program to call for 137 wings instead of 143, the cuts particularly hit troop-carrying wings.

U. I. Students To Roll Out Carpet for Dads

URBANA-CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — Dads will be honored this weekend at the University of Illinois, the campus where the idea of such an observance originated in 1920. Students will be rolling out the red carpets for their fathers, but the dads also will be taking part in weekend events.

The University of Illinois Dads association, largest organization of its kind in the world, will hold its annual meeting Saturday morning. President Lloyd Morey will speak, officers will be elected, and winners of four Dads association scholarships will be announced.

Friday afternoon the association's county chairmen will meet at Robert Allerton Park, the University's conference center near Monticello, 26 miles southwest of the Urbana-Champaign campus.

One dad, chosen by lot, will be honored by the students as "King for the Day," representing all the dads. He will be crowned at half-time activities during the Illinois-Syracuse football game Saturday.

Dr. B. G. Funkhouser, Harrisburg, and Herman H. Sutton, Eldorado, are chairmen from Saline county. Others in this area are Daniel J. Maloney, Ridgway, Gallatin chairman; Harry G. Maynor, Golconda, and Paul Trovillion, Brownfield, Pope county chairmen; and Galen P. Blaine, Cave-in-Rock, and Harold Efner, Rosiclare, Hardin county chairmen.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Forty-four persons were injured, only one seriously, when the Wabash Cannonball passenger train rammed into a freight train on the Merchants' Bridge near here Monday night.

Officials said both the freight and passenger train were moving quite slowly before the crash. Mail clerk William Lyons, 27, Covington, Ind., was the only one reported to be in serious condition.

Ohio River Flood Loses Power As It Rolls Southward

By United Press

The flooding Ohio river appeared tamed today, but in the East rescue workers still searched for nearly 100 persons missing since hurricane Hazel cut a 2,000-mile long path of destruction.

Elsewhere cold weather hampered mop-up operations in flood-stricken northern Indiana and Los Angeles citizens demanded a grand jury investigation of Southern California smog.

The Ohio appeared to be losing some of its power as its flood crest rolled southward. Authorities predicted damage in low-lying areas, but did not expect the devastation suffered in the Pittsburgh, Pa., and Wheeling, W. Va., areas.

The flood was expected to crest at Pomeroy, Ohio, at 41.5 feet. Officials said the river would have to rise six feet more than that to flood streets and basements.

To the east, there was only slight hope that any of the persons missing since the hurricane would be found alive. The hurricane's known death toll in the United States and Canada stood at 245 today.

Soil Conservation Service personnel, Thomas W. Morgan, George I. Tate, and Albert P. Seyer, assisting the Saline County Soil Conservation district, will attend a two-day meeting Oct. 19-20, for all Area 10 personnel, according to H. E. Gearhart, area conservationist.

The first day will be a trip to the Dixon Springs Experiment station, where new methods of pasture establishment and management will be studied. New plants, erosion control methods, management practices, established pastures and tree planting areas will be the principal points of interest.

of the tour conducted by Bob Webb, Experiment Station manager, and his staff.

The second day will be spent at the Kaskaskia Experimental Forest, south of Harrisburg. Here the group will see various woodland management practices and results under the direction of Dick Lane, Forester in charge of the Experimental Forest, and his staff.

All personnel of Area 10, comprising ten counties of southeastern Illinois, are included in this training meeting, which is a part of the regular training program for the area designed to bring to the employees the latest developments in the various fields of conservation of natural resources, according to Area Conservationist Gearhart.

TEXAS EASTERN SERVES THE COMPANIES THAT SERVE YOU

Assembling a giant 90,000 Kilowatt generator at the Westinghouse plant. The 150,000-pound steel frame, or housing, has been heat-treated in a natural gas-fired furnace at 1600°F. Westinghouse uses natural gas at its East Pittsburgh Works supplied by Equitable Gas Company, a customer of Texas Eastern.

A flick of the switch and uncertain darkness becomes bright as day. Behind this magic are powerful generators, some large enough to service cities of a half-million people. These "giants" are supported and housed in welded steel frames that have been stress-relieved in natural gas-fired furnaces. Gas for the furnaces is transported through hundreds of miles of pipeline by Texas Eastern. Westinghouse depends on natural gas for many of its heat treating operations, because gas is capable of producing extreme temperatures...can be exactly controlled...and is economical.

Saxton to Use Bulling Tactics Against Gavilan

PHILADELPHIA — Challenger Johnny Saxton, who hopes to keep out of jail by winning the welterweight crown from Kid Gavilan Wednesday night, will use "bulling" tactics in a desperate attempt to turn the trick.

As the advance ticket sale passed the $30,000 mark today, Trainer Jimmy Wilson said, "There's no secret about Johnny's plan to bull Gavilan about the ring. He's been bulling his sparring partners in nearly every workout."

Wilson declared there was nothing illegal about bulling, "although there'll probably be loud squawks from Gavilan's corner." He stressed that champions Rocky Marciano and Bobo Olson bullied their opponents backwards to prevent their fighting at long range, where speed counts most.

Chairman Frank Wiener of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission had no comment on the bulling, but announced firmly that if the 24-year-old Saxton does win the 47-pound championship from Cuban Gavilan, "We will not permit them to have a return title bout in Pennsylvania."

Student, Fined, Charges Players Also Scalp Tickets

MADISON, Wis. — A University of Wisconsin student, one of two persons fined for scalping tickets to the Purdue-Wisconsin game, said "all the players" have been selling tickets at premium rates.

Robert Halloran, 20, a University of Wisconsin student who was fined $10 in Superior Court Monday, told the judge that "all the players" have been selling tickets at scalper rates. He said he was trying to sell one for a Wisconsin griddler when he was arrested Friday night.

Joseph R. Valentine, 40, forfeited $100 bond when he failed to appear on the state law violation charge, and Alex London, 49, pleaded innocent. A fourth person arrested, University boxer Robert S. Hinds, was released after his arrest because he was trying to sell a side-line pass, a type of ticket not covered by the scalping law.

Guy Sundt, University athletic director, said he was not aware that players, who get from two to six tickets to each game, were selling them to the public. He said he assumed the tickets were given to relatives and friends.

Garagiola Quits Baseball Career

NEW YORK — Catcher Joe Garagiola of the New York Giants, only 28 years old, retired from baseball today to become a radio and television announcer in his native St. Louis.

Garagiola was purchased by the Giants in late season from the Chicago Cubs for the $10,000 waiver price. The catcher informed Giant officials when he reported that he intended to retire at the end of the season, and Commissioner Ford Frick ruled that the Cubs would have to return the $10,000 if he did so.

Garagiola thus wound up a nine-year major league career with a lifetime batting mark off .257.

Garagiola broke into the major leagues with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1946. Except for a brief time in 1948 when he was Columbus of the American Association, he played with the Cardinals until June, 1951, when he was traded to Pittsburgh. The Pirates traded him to the Cubs in June, 1953.

Arizona's Luppino No Backward Guy When He Carries

TUCSON, Ariz. — (NEA) — Art Luppino, swivel-hipped Arizona soph tailback, doesn't take a backward step when he runs with the ball.

In his first 27 carries this season, the La Jolla, Calif., boy gained 345 yards. He was not nailed for a loss even once.

In Arizona's first two contests Luppino scored nine times and added three extra points.

Illinois Grid Snapshots

SPRINGFIELD — Snapshots from the Illinois prep football scene:

The only fumble lost by either team in the Pekin-Peoria Manual tilt cost Pekin its 14th loss to Manual in 39 games—7-0.

The foul, rainy night was the scene of 12 fumbles, seven of them by Pekin, but only once did either team lose possession.

In the Bloomington-Lincoln clash, Lincoln's aerial fight was largely grounded, with only one of 11 passes completed. Three others were intercepted.

Art Brown sparked the Bloomington push that netted the Purple Raiders a one-sided homecoming victory, 13-0.

Gilman's Owls lost the battle of statistics to Central by a big margin, but won the game 21-13. A stolen ball and a blocked punt that seemed to go for the goal line like an arrow provided the breaks that set up the win.

The Palestine Pioneers took a second quarter 6-0 lead in their battle with Martinsville and held on to it doggedly until a hard rain in the last eight minutes of the game produced a series of fumbles. The Blue Streaks pounced quickly, producing two touchdowns and two extra points for a 14-6 win.

Watseka's "sure thing" turned sour when Paxton scored on the last play of the game to grab an 8-6 decision.

To add insult to injury the win stemmed from a Watseka fumble. Paxton end Bob Inbold grabbed the fumble and ran 35 yards for the winning score. It was 6-0 until early in the fourth when a Warrior tried to run the ball from his own backfield and was tackled in the end zone for a Paxton safety.

A series of Ridgefarm penalties helped Eastern to smother Ridgefarm 55-0. The Eastern Vikings hit hard under a dismal grey sky for eight touchdowns and seven conversions. The win was the fifth in a row.

Moline came from behind twice in the fight with Galesburg to win. Galesburg, a pregame underdog, led by scores of 6-0 and 13-7 but each time Moline, an old rival, came back to take over. The final was 21-20 in a game as hard fought as the score would indicate.

A completed pass that could easily have been knocked down led to Kankakee's 13-6 win over Mattoon.

After tackle Mile Sells broke through to block a punt by half-back Ray Elliott, a 15-yard penalty was levied against Kankakee, giving the ball to Mattoon on Kankakee's 43. After a running play of two yards, a long pass intended for Ed Lemaster on the Kankakee 10 turned into disaster.

Lemaster was well covered, but the Mattoon player tried to intercept the toss, only to tip it into Lemaster's hands, who lost little time in moving over the goal.

Jim Stadler, Pontiac's 135-pound halfback, stole the spotlight after momentarily bobbling the kickoff which opened the second half in the Normal-Pontiac tilt. He evaded the Normal eleven to run 75 yards. Final was 12-7 in Normal's favor.

Seconds before the end of the half, Dick Abner took a 30-yard pass in the Peoria East-Limestone battle, but slipped and skidded down the Rocket three-yard mark as the half ended.

He almost made it. The Peorians won anyway, 14-0.

Oklahoma and Wisconsin Hold One-Two Ratings; UCLA Third, OSU Fourth

NEW YORK — The United Press Board of Coaches picked Oklahoma's powerful Sooners as the nation's No. 1 college football team today for the third week in a row and gave Wisconsin a slight edge over UCLA for second place.

Arkansas, Army and Colorado all were promoted to berths among the top 10 teams this week, while Purdue, Duke and Penn State dropped out of the select group after Saturday setbacks.

The top four teams remained the same as last week, Ohio State retaining fourth place behind UCLA.

Mississippi advanced three notches to fifth; Notre Dame and Minnesota were tied for sixth; then came the three newcomers to round out the top 10.

The Midwest thus had four teams in the select group, while the Mid-lands, the South, Southwest, East, Pacific Coast and Rockies each were represented by one.

Oklahoma, which ran its season record to 4-0 by crushing Kansas, 65-0, was the first-place choice of 24 of the 35 leading coaches who comprise the United Press rating board. Although ranked second, Wisconsin received only three first place ballots to six for UCLA. Ohio State and Colorado each attracted one.

Coach Bud Wilkinson's Sooners, out to regain the national championship they won in 1950, received 331 out of a possible 350 points this week. Wisconsin, which trailed Oklahoma by 59 points last week, cut the deficit to 41 by drawing a total of 290 points. UCLA had 287 and Ohio State 229.

Arkansas made the biggest advance among the top 10, vaulting eight places to eighth. Army and Colorado each moved up three notches. Purdue fell from fifth to 11th, Duke from sixth to a tie for 18th, and Penn State from 10th to 17th.

After Purdue in the second 10 group came West Virginia, Southern California, Southern Methodist, Alabama, Iowa and Penn State in that order. Duke was tied for 18th with Texas Christian and Yale.

Mrs. Oswald rattled her demitasse, used it as a gavel to call the meeting to order.

"I have been thinking this matter over," she announced. "Outsiders are present and must be completely satisfied. We do not care to have more talk later. Therefore I have decided that Mrs. Argyle is incompetent to handle the investigation. Tomorrow I intend calling in the State Police. Or at least some outside competent officials."

Jim could recognize an intentional bombshell when it was tossed. He tried to read the meaning of the various expressions of surprise on faces which quickly assumed the blankness of disappointment and a disagreement which must at all costs never be expressed openly.

He waited for Sheriff Agnes to protest, but it was only Mrs. Hilton who ventured a question. "Really, Mrs. Oswald, is that necessary?" "I wouldn't do it otherwise," the old woman snapped. "I want this matter cleared up entirely, Mrs. Hilton. I want no after-effects."

A member of the family dead, Jim thought. And the remaining members who might be involved sat over cups of coffee and planned coldly. No sign of grief. Were they too hardened or too well schooled for that?

Mrs. Hilton looked across at Jim and smiled. "But is it necessary to call in more outsiders?" she asked. "We have Mr. Dunn with us, who I understand is a professional. Why not let him make what investigations you feel Aggie is incapable of conducting?"

For the fraction of a second, Jim saw a gleam of triumph in Mrs. Oswald's eyes. He realized she had deliberately jockeyed the situation so someone would make that very suggestion. But she had learned not to give it without a show of resistance, even when it was her own desire which had been suggested. "Mr. Dunn is employed by Mrs. Kit," she said.

"That fact might prejudice him in her favor." A diamond-studded claw reached for a brandy glass. Jim took the opportunity to catch the old woman's eye. He winked at her.

Mrs. Oswald coughed. She put the glass down.

Jim looked at Sheriff Agnes. The woman's coffee cup shook in her strong fingers, but she voiced no objection. "Mrs. Kit is my client," Jim said. "I intend to make a full investigation anyway." Dunn blamed the company for the almost still words.

Mrs. Oswald pressed ahead. "However, if it was agreed among us that you were in charge, certain information and facilities would be available. There would be a cooperation which I do not think you would have otherwise."

"True enough," Jim admitted. "But suppose there would be expected an equal amount of cooperation on my part? In other and blunter words, I'd be expected to suppress anything which could be considered detrimental to the Carlson family?"

"Not at all," Mrs. Oswald lied. "We all want the whole truth, of course."

Jim Dunn awakened suddenly from a restless, dream-ridden sleep. A glance at his luminous watch told him it was two-thirty. He blamed the ghastly hour for his anxiety, for his sudden wakefulness, his owl-eyed awareness.

Beside him, Nancy breathed softly.

He decided he might as well get up and have a cigarette. The decision must have brought relaxation, because Nancy was shaking him.

"Jim! Jim Wake up. Quit snoring. And there's someone at the door."

He flipped on a light, struggled into his robe, and stumbled to the door.

Agnes Argyle stood there, brought into sharp relief by the Dunns' light.

"It's Mother," Agnes said. "It's Mrs. Oswald. She's been poisoned."

Almost as shocking as the words themselves was the fact that Sheriff Agnes was crying.

It was full daylight, a morning of blue sky filled with broken white clouds pushed swiftly by a high altitude wind, before the doctor pronounced Mrs. Oswald out of danger and ready to see Jim Dunn. Jim's drastic emergency measures of the night before, the fact that arsenic used in the taxidermy work had suggested the poison, and the circumstance of the doctor himself being handy in Creek Junction, had combined to make the shift recovery possible.

When Jim went in the huge bedroom in the old part of the house, the dim light made it almost impossible for him to see the small figure in the huge old-fashioned bed with its solid cherrywood head and foot. Mrs. Oswald was an almost imperceptible mound in the expanse of white blanket.

Jim drew the curtains aside. Mrs. Oswald showed little sign of her ordeal except a new touch of fragility.

"You keep your supply of arsenic locked up?" "No. Anyone could have gotten some. Everyone knows I use it. It's in a paper bag right there on my studio workbench."

"Perhaps you got a quantity in your mouth by accident?" "I haven't the strength to waste on silly questions."
